

Tulsa County Commission's Vision2 tax scheme

VS.

Jenks's money for Jenks's vision

13 year, 0.6 cent county sales tax	City sales tax, city choice of rate and duration
Jenks gets only $9 million	Jenks could raise at least $12 million with no overall tax increase (0.6 cent, 13 year city sales tax when Vision 2025 expires)
$254 million earmarked to bail out AA, City of Tulsa facilities	No Jenks tax dollars to bail out AA, City of Tulsa facilities
Uncapped corporate-welfare "deal-closing" fund; Jenks council has no say in how it's spent	Jenks voters spend Jenks's money for Jenks's benefit
Jenks's share of extra funds is frozen	Money for Jenks projects grows as Jenks grows
County can veto Jenks projects	Jenks voters have full control over projects
Hastily thrown together list of projects designed for short-term political gain; no strategic planning	Carefully considered, strategic projects based on city's comprehensive plan and capital improvements plan
Almost $100 million wasted on interest and bond fees	Pay as you go: No money wasted on interest and bond fees
WRONG FOR JENKS	RIGHT FOR JENKS

Why are Jenks officials giving up $3 million that could pay for roads, bridges, public safety, parks, and other city needs?
